Notice has been posted at Wheatland, near Vincennes, Ind., threatening the burning of the property of any man who employs a Negro after March 1 or "harbors, leases or rents to" any Negro. There is a settlement of Negroes at Wheatland.

A doctor at Clinton, Ia., believes he has succeeded in successfully transplanting a rabbit's eye to a human being.

A miner in an explosion entirely lost one eye and the cornea of the other. The cornea of a live rabbit was placed on the partly destroyed eye and the doctor thinks it will keep alive. It already admits light and relieves the miner of total blindness.

The smallest engine ever made has been completed. It is a horizontal engine and can stand on a 10-cent piece.

One has to look through a microscope to see plainly its various parts. It runs as accurately as the best engine ever built.

It is made of gold, silver, copper and steel. The band of the fly wheel is solid gold. The length of the main shaft, which is of steel, is five-sixteenths of an inch. The diameter of the fly wheel is seven-sixteenths of an inch. The outside diameter of the cylinder, which is sheeted with ebony, is three-sixteenths of an inch and the bore of the cylinder is five-sixtyfourths of an inch. The diameter of the piston rod is less than two-sixtyfourths of an inch. The weight of the engine is three pennyweights. It is run by compressed air.

The president called in conference Senators Allison, Aldrich and Spooner, Speaker Henderson and Representatives Cannon and Grosvenor. The conference is believed to have shaped legislation in Cuba, the Philippines and war revenue repeal and to have included a discussion of the Schley case.

An interesting feature of the centennial of the "Louisiana Purchase" will be the publication of the exact text of the journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition which are now in the possession of the American Philosophical Society of Philadelphia.

The Senate ratified the Danish treaty without amendment.

Crab Orchard.

It seems that there is a strip of country here that has fortunately, or otherwise, escaped the heavy fall of snow that has extended in various places throughout the country. We have had little flurries of snow, but not sufficient for sleigh riding.

Mrs. Charles Redd, Jr., who has been so seriously ill for some time, is now convalescent, much to the gratification of her many friends. William Brooks is spending a few days with home friends. His mother and sister are still in the genial clime of California.

Our town wears an aspect of sadness over the departure of Maurice and Roscoe Perkins to Arizona, in search of better health. The best wishes of their many friends will ever attend them to their far away home. They are greatly missed here. George Lee James still continues quite ill at the residence of his sister, Mrs. James F. Holdam. The friends of Charles Singleton received information of his safe arrival in the Indian Territory.

Scott Farris is attending the bedside of her father in Madison county.

Miss Fannie Langford desires to express her heartfelt thanks to all her friends, who ministered in so many ways to the comfort of her nephew, J. S. Darnon, during his recent fatal illness. He has been taken from her in the prime of promising manhood, at the age of 27, and her house is now left unto her desolate. It was indeed grievous for her to part from the casket that held her precious jewel, yet may her sorrow-stricken heart find relief in the thought that "those who sow in tears may one day reap in joy."

Miss Allie Fish is still with her sister, Mrs. Dr. J. M. Black, of Knoxville, who is reported as some better. Mrs. Annie May Eubanks returned Saturday to her home in Paris, after a pleasant visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stephens. Mrs. Cora Gaines, of Lancaster, visited her father, Mr. Wm. Stewart, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. W. A. Beazley and daughter, Miss Lizette, went to Lancaster Saturday to spend a few days with Dr. Walter S. Beazley and family. Mrs. Robert Collier, of Brodhead, made a brief visit Saturday to her mother, Mrs. Tatum. D. Holman was called to the bedside of his little son, Willie Craig, who was visiting his aunt, Mrs. Ruth Coffey, of Bee Lick. He was quite sick with pneumonia, but is much better.

Mrs. W. A. Morrow, of Somerset, is visiting Miss Bert James. P. M. Conder is with his father in Casey. J. J. Brooks is on a prospective tour to Richmond and other points. Stark I. Fish, of Louisville, is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. M. E. Fish.

CHURCH MATTERS.

A church will be built on the site of the cottages "quarter house" in Bell county.

Choir boys of St. Clement's church, in New York, went on a strike, and, led by the rector's son, stoned the chapel.

The Baptists of Lagrange are celebrating the 100th anniversary of the establishment of their church in that place.

The First Methodist Episcopal church, Los Angeles, Cal., has one of the largest Sabbath schools in Methodism. Its enrollment is 1,240.

There were 289 additions to the Christian church at Portsmouth, O., during a meeting just closed. Pastor George P. Taubman did a good deal of the preaching.

Col. Sam W. Stairs has paid off the debt of $535 on the new Methodist church at Dover, which leaves the congregation entirely free from debt. The structure cost $6,000, and, of this amount, the late Mrs. Mary S. Stairs and her husband, Sam W. Stairs, gave over $3,600.

Rev. Dr. David Gregg has asked the trustees of the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, of which he is pastor, to reduce his annual salary from $10,000 to $8,000, because he feels that he is no longer worth the large sum. "If I was paying my own salary," says Dr. Gregg, "I would not give myself more than $8,000 a year."

SOMETHING THAT WILL DO YOU GOOD.

We know of no way in which we can be of more service to our readers than to tell them of something that will be of real good to them. For this reason we want to acquaint them with what we consider one of the very best remedies on the market for coughs, colds and that alarming complaint, croup. We refer to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with good results in our family so long that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented croup. The testimony is given upon our own experience, and we suggest that our readers, especially those who have small children, always keep it in their homes as a safeguard against croup.—Camden (S. C.) Messenger. For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

LANCASTER.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet Saturday afternoon with Mrs. M. D. Hughes.

The Baptists realized the neat sum of $25 by their box supper given Friday evening.

The oldest citizens pronounce the past week one of the coldest cold spells experienced in years.

Misses Dove Harris and Alberta Anderson went to Stanford Sunday after learning of the death of their relative, Mrs. M. C. Burnside.

Rock is being piled around the park fence preparatory to repainting the square with a layer of crushed stone. The jail is also undergoing repairs.

Rev. Chumley, of Virginia, preached to a large audience at the Presbyterian church Sunday. He will conduct communion services next Sunday.

Rural free delivery seems to be an assured thing for this county as Gov. Bradley is pushing the matter and on a recent visit to Washington made some efforts in that direction.

Ethel Dunn, the 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ophelia Dunn, fell on the ice and has since been suffering from a sprained back. Dr. Wesley has been confined to his room for several days.

Mr. Albert Meade, of Louisville, field secretary of the State Christian Endeavor Union, will lecture to the Endeavor Society on Friday afternoon and deliver a general address that evening.

Henry Beazley sold some hogs to T. S. Eikin at $10. C. A. Robinson also sold a bunch of hogs at same figures. Eikin bought of W. B. Burton some butcher stuff for March delivery at 4c; also some from Leander Davidson at 3c.

A few nights ago two Negro prisoners made an attempt to break jail by sawing through two bars of their cell. Another inmate informed on them and the city marshal was called. He found a saw improvised from a case knife on one of the Negroes.

Miss Frankie Kauffman has been in Hustonville for several days. Rev. T. B. Ray, of Nashville, Tenn., has been visiting his old home in this county. Mr. Jesse Walden, of Danville, has been with his wife and little son at Dr. Herring's. Miss Daisy Collier, of Danville, is the guest of Misses Pearl and Ann Hill.

The infant of Dr. and Mrs. Sandlin has been quite ill. Little Lucian Grant has been sick. Branham Beazley went to Boyle Sunday to see his sister. Mrs. J. S. Baughman, who is ill. Mrs. G. M. Patterson has returned from a visit to Mrs. Dodge, at Berea. Miss Daisy Atkinson, of Salem, Ind., is the guest of Mrs. O. B. Perkins. Mrs. Mary Anderson visited her son in Danville.

The remains of Mrs. M. C. Burnside were brought here Monday from Stanford and buried in the Lancaster cemetery, where her husband and other departed members of the family are buried.

The deceased was a resident of this vicinity during the greater part of her husband's life. The burial was attended by a large concourse of friends and relatives.

Now that the matter is once again arousing public interest, it seems that a system of water works will materialize at an early date. The franchise will be awarded to the lowest bidder and the city council will see to it that the contractor is so bound that it will be impossible to delay the work. This public construction will be begun in the early spring and every detail will be rigidly supervised by the building committee. It is believed that Lancaster will have a first-class system of water works before 1903.

J. Hansbury West died at his home in this county Saturday after an illness of less than a week of pneumonia. While Mr. West had been in feeble health for some time, as he had reached his 87th year, he was still able to be a constant attendant at church. He had been an earnest member of the Christian church and the funeral was conducted at that place Monday morning by Elder Moore. He leaves a widow and five grown children to mourn his death. The deceased was a native of Madison, came to this county some time in the 50s and for several years was a prominent druggist and business man. He married the widow of Allen Hiatt and the latter part of his life was a successful farmer.
